

THE BARACK OBAMA LECTURES

“THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE FIRST BLACK PRESIDENT: DISCOURSES IN AFRICAN AMERICAN INTELLECTUAL AND SOCIAL THOUGHT”

LECTURER: KASAUN ERIC HENRY

As the presidency of Barack Obama comes to an end, many questions surface that will shape Pres. Obama's legacy for better or worse. In this five-part lecture series, Kasaun explores the meaning and impact of Obama's presidency on African-American history and the black experience in the twenty-first century.

Kasaun has three master's degrees and is a PhD candidate in Drew University's History & Culture program. His academic interests are the intellectual history of American democracy, the history and philosophy of human rights, and theories of secularization.

AUGUST 8, 2016

WHAT'S SO SPECIAL ABOUT THE FIRST BLACK PRESIDENT?

AUGUST 9, 2016

IS OBAMA'S BLACKCARD AUTHENTIC?

AUGUST 10, 2016

WHAT FLAVOR IS OBAMA'S CUP OF BLACK LEADERSHIP?

AUGUST 11, 2016

WHAT IS OBAMA'S BLACK AGENDA?

AUGUST 12, 2016

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY,
HAMILTON GRANGE BRANCH

503 W. 145 St. New York, NY
10030

kasaunhenry.com allaboutbarackobama.com

Free Five-Part Lecture
Series, 3:30pm-4:30pm on
8/8/16, 8/9/16, 8/10/16,
8/11/16, 8/12/16